Project Manager

Javetec (UK) (IT),

08.2021 – По теперішній час (4 роки 4 місяці)

Обов'язки:

Javetec (previously known as Tectum AI), a British company that provides business leadership, technical expertise, design, and development services for start-ups & companies those looking to implement AI solutions. They develop a fully tailored technology strategy.

I am working here as an IT project manager, currently on a high-budget, long-term real estate project for an EU-based company with offices in Sweden and the UK. I also cover some in-house projects of Javetec based on AI implementation into various industries. My responsibilities included project planning, control, supervision of the results, and analytics of developers' performance. I regularly communicate with clients in order to make them confident about the project's success. We use platforms Jira, Trello, and Asana for tasks, Slack for regular communication.

In addition, on a part-time based, I am working together with the CEO on a Business Development, as this company is actively growing and require new strategies within marketing, sales, hiring, etc.
