Описание

In a short time prepared a team and a knowledge base on a crypto project.

Improved the quality of the support team's responses by individual analysis of the performance of duties, also using tête-à-tête conversations.

Conducted self-prepared trainings on the rules and recommendations for good support team work. I also oversaw the preparation and conduct of a training on soft skills, which are so necessary for support specialists.

Successfully completed a course on HTML CSS, project management.
