Описание

I'm a second-year Applied Linguistics student at the Faculty of Foreign Philology with a passion for web technologies and UI/UX design. My blend of linguistic expertise and technical skills allows me to create intuitive, culturally-sensitive digital experiences. I specialize in developing user-centered interfaces that effectively bridge language barriers and enhance cross-cultural communication.

My portfolio includes personal web projects that showcase my ability to apply linguistic principles to UI/UX design, resulting in more inclusive and accessible digital products.

I have experience as a content maker. I am currently working as a IT recruiter at Hire 1.

I am open to new vacancies with a free schedule, to combine work and study.
