Описание вакансии

Rove.me is looking for freelancers with excellent writing skills (yes, in English!) and a strong aesthetic sense. We want the world to know about all the fantastic events and seasonal experiences not to be missed.

Rove.me is:

- a team of hard-working travel-passionate professionals
- a platform for travel inspiration
- the first place to check before planning your trip

Who are we looking for?

We are looking for you if you are:

- fluent in English (B2 +)
- a vivid reader of travel-related websites
- an aesthete who can't imagine the world without stunning photos and inspiring videos aka National Geographic and Discovery
- flexible and open to new tasks
- a nerd; fact-checking, details, and precision are your passion.

Responsibilities:

- Write short articles (about 200 words) about events and seasonal experiences worldwide in an informative, neutral and friendly manner
- Find relevant visuals, i.e. photos and videos, and add them to those short articles according to our editorial guidelines
- Update previously published content
- Some other tasks may arise throughout the process

Requirements:

- Excellent command of written English
- Comfortable working remotely
- Ready to work on a flexible working hours basis
- Previous copywriting experience

You might be a great fit if you have:

- Passion and curiosity about travel
- You can write in various styles and manners
- Genuine empathy for fellow travelers and a strong desire to provide good quality information to them
- Ability to work independently in a remote team

We offer:

- Working in a fast-changing travel project where your ideas will be heard
- Flexible working hours. The workload might fluctuate from month to month
- A team with a good sense of humour but dedicated to their work
- Constant funnel of content-related tasks

- No need to do in-depth research or write a PhD thesis
- Rewards based on the complexity of the tasks

How to apply:

Send your application to eleonora@rove.me

Please, enclose:

- CV or LinkedIn profile
- Expected rate (per hour/per 1000 characters/etc.)
- Your previous publications

In your email, you might also express some ideas on how to improve our job announcement (typos, style, grammar - up to you!)
