Описание вакансии

We are looking for a result-oriented and self-directed person aimed at getting the work done in the most efficient way possible with 5+ years working with Ruby on Rails.

What do you need for this position:

1. Tech fluency. Our stack consists of Ruby on Rails and JavaScript mostly.

Other tech skills required are:

— Understanding and practical usage of TDD is a must.
— Practical experience with PostgreSQL.

2. Product-centric thinking is very important. You are a tech person, but you have your opinion on how the product should work and collaborate with the company and the customers to find the best solutions with business interests in view.

3. Personal skills: we are looking for a person who is communicating PROACTIVELY, successfully using time-management, providing effective feedback and using the feedback of others for personal development.
