Описание вакансии

We are a Remote game-development training center and studio based in Israel (operating worldwide).

We seek for talented C++ programmers to mentor the students (one on one) remotely in one of the next spoken languages: English / Hebrew / Russian

Conditions:

- Remote, work from home
- Part-Time freelance
- Flexible hours

Requirements:

- Good level of C++11 (or newer) code.
- Ability to write well-optimized code. Will be tested.
- Good English (speaking and writing)
- C is not C++. don't apply if you don't have at the very least 200 hours experience of practical coding with C++.

Good to have:

- Game Development Experience - critical bonus (especially Unreal Engine)
- Familiarity with different API's and integration

Note:

You will teach part of C++ block for Unreal Engine game development course. There are additional specialist teachers to teach the things you can't - but you must know things you do teach - at a good level.

If you are also interested in getting into game development in the Unreal Engine platform - we can arrange training for you while you work here.
