Описание вакансии

Job Description:

We are a small and innovative startup seeking a talented Full Stack Developer to join us for a short-term project, approximately 1 month in duration. The project involves building a secure chat application for web browsers. All the visual interfaces have already been designed and prepared for implementation in Figma.

Responsibilities:

- Work closely with our team to understand the project requirements and implement the designed solution.
- Develop both front-end and back-end components of the web application.
- Implement secure communication methods using NodeJS, Express, and Socket.IO.
- Utilize SQL for database management and integration.
- Implement and manage asynchronous functions for efficient performance.

Requirements:

- Experience of at least 2 years in Web Development or a portfolio that can be provided for review.
- Strong understanding of both front-end and back-end development principles.
- Proficiency in NodeJS, Express, Socket.IO, and SQL.
- Familiarity with asynchronous functions (Promises).
- Experience with Material Design principles (preferred).
- Bonus: Some experience with The Web Crypto API for encryption and security enhancements.
- No strict language requirements.

Benefits:

- Collaborative Small Team: Join a close-knit team where your contributions make a significant impact.
- Flexible Working Hours
- On-Demand Work: Engage in exciting development challenges without long-term commitments.
- Payment by Results: Fair payment based on the quality and effectiveness of your deliverables.
