Опис вакансії

We're building an exciting new mobile application for language learners, and are looking for a full-time developer to help complete and launch our app! You'll be working with in-demand technologies alongside an experienced developer/manager. After launch, you'll be helping us add core product features to build an app that our users love to use.

Responsibilities

- Making technical improvements to our React-native Android app
- Adding new user-facing features
- Integrating with cloud services

Requirements

- 1 year of experience in Javascript
- Experience with React Native and popular React workflows
- You like to learn new things, and are not afraid of touching all parts of the tech stack
- Upper-intermediate level of English - you will be working with a native English speaker every day

Technologies We Use

- React / React Native / Redux
- Android
- Python
- Git
- AWS / Google Cloud Platform
- Natural Language Processing

We offer

- Full time job
- Work from home, but with frequent in-person meetings in Kyiv
- Paid vacation
- Flexible working hours
- Growth and development - You will be working closely with an experienced developer/manager who will be working alongside you on the app. This means mentoring and opportunities for career development.
- English language development - you will be testing/using our English learning app, as well as working closely in English. Improve your professional mastery of English.
