- Academic background in Business, Psychology, or Computer Science

- Experience in managing end-to-end recruitment processes
- A proactive thinker who can consider multiple angles, explore different solutions, and evaluate their potential outcomes
- Member of a student organization, non-university group, or volunteer experience
- Comfortable in a fast-paced, dynamic environment
- Motivated to explore various business sectors and advance quickly

What do we offer?

- Remote work: If you'd like, you can work from places like Hawaii ?
- A unique opportunity to work with international clients, top corporations (this year, we provided recruitment services for BCG and Klarna?), demanding industry startups, and hedge funds from Singapore and Hong Kong
- An exciting chance to kickstart your business career with a diverse range of tasks and responsibilities from day one — no repetitive work here!
- A rare opportunity to develop business skills alongside technological expertise in the international market
- Mentoring program: From the start, you'll have a dedicated mentor-manager to guide you every step of the way and teach you valuable insights
